

The Southern Fiddler Ray

Words and music by Mal Webb and Kylie Morrigan ©2023

A new song created and recorded for Elwood Singing Walking Trail by local songwriters Mal and Kylie. You can sing, dance, or listen to this song at Song Site 6 - Point Ormond Hill - or at any place along the Trail where you can see the sea! Learn about Mal and Kylie here:

<http://malwebb.com/MalAndKy.html>

All around Port Phillip Bay
On a still and clear day
If you're lucky you may
See a Southern Fiddler Ray
AKA

Trygonorrhina dumerilii swim merrily by
You shoulda seen 'er, (dumerilii swim merrily by)
St Kilda marina, (dumerilii swim merrily by)
She doesn't have a sting, so your feet will be OK
Come say g'day to the Southern Fiddler Ray

If she comes to have a play
Give her space to swim away
She's a bewdy, so hey
Make today the day we praise the ray, hooray!

Trygonorrhina dumerilii swim merrily by
You shoulda seen 'er, (dumerilii she'll give you the eye)
St Kilda marina, (dumerilii don't need to be shy)
She doesn't have a sting, so your feet will be OK
Come say g'day to the Southern Fiddler Ray